A Little Bit About Yourself

My name is Anita. I am 32 and I work as a professional accountant. However, beauty is my life, my passion and my love! I am a qualified makeup artist, nail technician, beauty therapist and nail and makeup educator!! Can you tell I don't sleep much! But the truth is I wouldn't be able to do this without the amazing network of support I have around me. They keep me going and for that I am forever thankful. When I do get some spare time though I like to exercise, read or chill with a glass of vino and Netflix!!

Why did you start Blogging?

So, Adorn.ie is now two years old. I had previous blogs in the past but Adorn.ie is here to stay! I started blogging simply as a way to connect with like-minded people and also to share the passion I have for the beauty industry. I was regularly asked by friends and family for beauty advice and product recommendations so one day, while I should have been studying, I decided to start a blog. My aim was to create a forum where I could share my love for all things beauty with anyone that would listen. I haven't looked back!!

Your Best Beauty Tip

I have so many beauty tips and I actually do a Tip of the Day on my social media platforms so be sure to check that out for lots of helpful hints and tips. If I had to choose one, it would be to wear a broad spectrum SPF daily. Don't leave the house without it. This has massive long term benefits for both the appearance and health of your skin. You will thank me in years to come ☺

Your Top Tan Tip

Oh the best tip I spoke about recently was that when you are in the shower rinsing off your developing tan don't wash your hair. The ingredients in most shampoos will strip the tan from your body and all your hard work will be wasted. There are some shampoos and conditioner specifically formulated for this use but most of them are not so be warned!! I wish someone told me this years ago!!
