Why did you start Blogging?

This blog is about my life, family, fashion, and whatever else I decide I want to talk about that day! I definitely have a passion for fashion. I love trying new things and being inspired by others. I thought I would start a blog because I wanted to encourage people to add a little glam to their everyday life! You have to wear clothes, so you might as well love them and feel good in them! I started Glam Meets Girl back in 2015, I knew I wanted to create something, but I wasn't entirely sure of what that "something" was. Without hesitation, I signed up on Wordpress and wrote my first blog post. I had no idea what I was doing, but I had the passion to learn and grow, so I did just that.

A Little Bit About Yourself

I am Sheila McCall and I am 29. I am engaged (soon to be married) to the love of my life Niall Raftery! I became a mommy on December 28th, 2016, her name is May and she is perfect. The most amazing little girl a mommy could ever ask for, and because of her everyday is better than the next. I've had such a varied and interesting career, working in the legal industry and now as a blogger, and I'm loving all the new challenges and opportunities that are coming my way. These successes never outshines my greatest success so far, which is being a Mom, to little May!

Your Best Beauty Tip

Long, Luscious Lashes — those are a year-round necessity. Always let your lashes set between layers of mascara. Practice a little patience between each coat, giving a little bit of air time between each coat will allow the mascara to set and build upon each layer instead of gooping up as one big clump.

Your Top Tan Tip

Always consider streaks when you are applying and make sure your body is covered all over with self tan and you haven't left any white marks or streaks.
