

Blogger of the week

Irish Beauty Blog Awards

In association with TanOrganic

Bella and Vogue

Website: <https://bellaandvogue.blogspot.ie>

<https://www.facebook.com/bellaandvogue/>

<https://twitter.com/KerrieABurke>

<https://www.instagram.com/bellaandvogue/>

A Little Bit About Yourself

My name is Kerrie, I am in my early twenties studying a degree in Business, Marketing and Sales. I also work part time as a Beauty Adviser as well as running my blog Bella and Vogue. I am living in my favourite city in Ireland which is Galway. I love the vibe and how the city has such charm. I love keeping busy and have many interests such as beauty, fashion, reading and photography. I have a severe case of the travel bug and plan on traveling a lot this summer.

Why did you start Blogging?

In my early teens I started reading many different blogs and found them really interesting. I loved how different each one was and how creative bloggers were being. It is your own space on the internet where you can create anything you like. After a lot of consideration, I decided to go for it and really haven't looked back since. I love the variety and how much I have learned and how it has involved and continues to change every day.

Your Best Beauty Tip

My best beauty tip would have to be to have a strict skincare routine. Looking after your skin from a young age is vital not only for confidence but also for ensuring that it is protected at all costs. A flawless complexion is the base for a flawless finish. This goes for your foundation as well as your fake tan.

Your Top Tan Tip

My top tanning tip would be to body brush and exfoliate your skin every day. This may sound harsh but as long as you are gentle and are using a rich cream moisturiser or body oil your skin will be satin smooth and your tan will be flawless.

Find all the nominees of the awards on our website: <http://www.beautyblogawards.com/>